PROJECTS

AI & Critical Thinking Research University of Colorado Boulder

- Designed and administered surveys and conducted interviews to collect primary data on how AI tool use affects undergraduate critical thinking skills.
- Analyzed a secondary dataset of 10,000+ UK undergraduate survey responses alongside primary data to identify behavioral and cognitive patterns associated with AI dependency.

Moto Market — Full-Stack Motorcycle Market Analysis App github.com/phanhuy18/Moto-market

- Built a full-stack application analyzing motorcycle resale market data, using FastAPI and PostgreSQL for the backend and Streamlit with Plotly for interactive dashboards.
- Integrated the eBay Browse API with OAuth2 authentication to pull live listings data for analysis.
- Identified and remediated a committed-credentials security incident using git filter-branch, hardening the repo's secret-handling practices.

EXPERIENCE

IBM — UX Intern

Aug 2022 – Oct 2022 Remote

- Designed and developed a responsive website for IBM with a fellow intern, applying user research and iterative feedback to improve functionality and user experience.
- Built the interface using HTML, CSS, and UX design principles, aligning the final product with IBM's branding and business objectives.

IBM — P-TECH Intern, Watson Cloud Unit

Jun 2021 – Aug 2021 Remote

- Collaborated with interns nationwide to research IBM Watson Cloud and develop a proposal presentation addressing bot-driven fraud on retail websites.

Apple — Specialist Boulder, CO

2026 – Present

- Advanced from a retail sales role to Apple's Retail Specialist position after passing two rounds of interviews (individual behavioral and group format), leveraging prior customer-service experience.
- Guide customers through product selection and setup, translating technical product knowledge into clear, tailored recommendations.
- Represent Apple's brand standards in a high-volume, customer-facing environment.

Home Depot — Sales Associate

2022 – 2026 Firestone, CO

- Resolved customer concerns promptly and calmly during high-demand periods and collaborated with the team to streamline service interactions across departments.
